

New to the KSPG production range

Shorter, more succinct and more international: These are the characteristics of KSPG, the new company name of Kolbenschmidt Pierburg. This reformulation of the holding's name and redraft of its corporate logo predominantly accommodate the corporations presence in the worldwide market without sacrificing identity or tradition.

For our business partners, everything remains the same - we are present at the market with our internationally established brands KS and Pierburg, which continue to stand for innovation, quality and service.
